Clifton Terrace, Hayle.

Hayle Town Council has presented Margaret Tanner a very well-known citizen, in every sense of the word, who is leaving Hayle for personal reasons, with a ceramic HTC Plate in recognition of her work.

In his address to the Council and friends of Margaret, Mayor Nick Farrar thanked her for all that she had achieved over the years. He said everything that is good in Hayle she had a hand in - such as the Foodbank, Hayle Decorative Lighting, the Raft race, Hayle in Bloom, Churches together, Cancer Research UK, St Joseph's Church and she was the main driving force behind the wonderful Hayle Celebration Day and these were just a few of the activities for which she provided help and support. He added that she could leave Hayle with her head held high, knowing that she had given more for our town than most, and that she was an example to us all and that Hayle was better for all her hard work.

On behalf of the town and everyone he presented the plate as a small gesture of thanks.

In reply Margaret said she was honoured to have been involved with so many projects and gave an outline of her life in Hayle. Having arrived here from Ireland, (to where she is now going back), in 1963 in her capacity as a nurse working in the local hospital where she met her late husband, and that she had enjoyed and adored the town ever since and included her children in making Hayle a special place for her.

Margaret then thanked everyone throughout Hayle who has helped her over the years to which there was enthusiastic applause.

We at the Pump wish Margaret well and are sure that her home village will soon benefit from her energy and good work and Hayle will miss her.

Marie Frédérique the president of Pordic Twinning has sent this report, written by the Secretary Robin Poulton describing their recent visit to Hayle.

Hayle-Pordic Twinning Teams celebrate their 20th Anniversary.

In celebration of the 20th anniversary of the Twinning of Hayle with Pordic, a whole series of symbols and celebrations was arranged in late May 2017. The biggest symbol was the construction of a BOULODROME beside the Hayle swimming pool, a sandy track where citizens can practice the noble French art of “boules” or “Pétanque” - the word they use in the South of France for this version of “bowls.” Instead of rolling wooden balls as in British crown bowls, the French throw metal balls at the “jack” on a sandy track. They are medieval cannonballs of solid steel, and therefore sobriety is recommended. Death can ensue if a cannonball takes off in the wrong direction (as many a Cornish privateer has proved in past centuries). A splendid panel beside the BOULODROME explains the 20th anniversary Jumelage celebration; a wooden bench is provided for watchers or the exhausted; and a copper plate given by the men and women of Pordic adorns the wooden frame of the elegant bowling alley.

On May 26th an inaugural game of "Boules" was held between the current twinning presidents, Sonya and Marie-Frédérique, and the founding presidents Maurice and Claude. The first boules were lobbed in memory of the two mayors who signed the original twinning agreement: the late Charlie Allen and André Guédé of happy memory. The quality of this inaugural game was so terrible, that the youth members of the Pordic delegation (aged 8 – 15) were called in to provide better skills, allowing the Elders to retire before complete humiliation could ensue.

A dinner reception was held that evening in the West Cornwall Golf Club, at the gracious invitation of the Club Captain Richard – husband of the Hayle Twinning President. The Mayor and Deputy Mayor attended, and a second delightful ceremony took place (together with speeches in French and English) with the presentation of a magnificent wooden JIGSAW of two matching, interlocking pieces reading: "HAYLE – PORDIC 20 ANS" (20 years). Each town will keep and display one piece of the jigsaw, and the twin pieces shall be rejoined during every visit. The Pordic sculpture now hangs in the Salle Charlie Allen in Pordic. It will be taken down to meet its twin on August 25th 2017, when the Hayle delegation next arrives in Pordic.

Dinner included Bang-Bang Chicken; roast beef with vegetables and Yorkshire pud, a bakery complement which astonished the French: "do you Eeenglish eat zis with ze meat, or ees eet for ze dessert?" Followed by meringue with strawberries, ice-cream and Cornish clotted cream (which delighted the French, especially when the closest translation we could find was "coagulated"). The meringues were perfect: crunchy on the outside, and just gooey enough on the inside to stick to your dentures. After hearing about the "coagulated cream" several French – who are notoriously hypochondriac - were seen dialing their coronary specialists to ask for an appointment.

tunes and Glen Miller classics, bringing two dozen Hayle and Pordic dancers onto the floor. They claim on their website to be “a truly 1940’s experience . We only play from vintage arrangements or transcriptions, rather than modern day interpretations which many bands pass as 1940’s. We are the band that plays authentic 1940’s Dance Music, looks like a band from the 1940’s and sounds like a band from the 1940’s.” The Skyliners did a grand job for the Jumelage, and the French loved them! We have to note that the only serious male dancers came from Pordic: but Robin and Jean

-Paul proved able to handle a dozen of the best female dancers, and the women’s crème-de-la-crème were undoubtedly Sonya, Julia and Emma from Hayle. That Cornish cream obviously brings out the dancing talent in Cornish lasses.

The community outing to Land’s End was greatly enjoyed, despite intermittent rain.

The First and Last House (“Première et la Dernière Maison d’Angleterre”) was a success, where there was more coagulated cream and ice cream. This was the day that Exeter beat Wasps to win the club Championship, and George

-the-farmer made a speech in terrible French, in honour of Jack Newell's try for Penzance. The Bretons visited the "End-to-End" exhibit, and read with amazement the English fascination with running, walking, cycling, even wheelbarrowing 874 miles (1398 Km) from John O'Groats to Land's End. They were heard making literary references to Asterix and Obelix, those famous resisters against Roman occupation of Brittany - "Ils son fous, ces Anglais !" Talking of Roman occupation, some visitors made a visit to the spectacular Phillack pub "Bucket of Blood" where there is said to have been an Inn since Roman times. The current building is at least 300 years old, and its foundations may be at least twice as old as that. The bloody story of an Exciseman with his throat cut being found at the bottom of the well (his death was recorded as "accidental") is a reminder of Cornish history: not just a county of fishing and mining and friendly cows making clotted cream, but a place of pirates and wreckers, rivals of the Breton sailors across the Channel; the home of privateers and smugglers, who greatly enriched the wine-merchants of Bordeaux and Cognac. Gentle jokes were made during the visit about the history of Cornwall.

The Pordic guests went home with a new oath to add to their English language studies: "Great Buckets of Blood!" In the French accent, "O! ze greeet bookettes of bloood" it sounds hilarious.

HAYLE FILM CLUB
www.haylefilmclub.org.uk

As usual, we're taking a break in August, but we'll be back on Saturday evening the 9th of September with a new season of 'fine films and friendly faces,' presented twice each month at the Passmore Edwards Institute.

Some of the titles under consideration for this autumn include A Quiet Passion, A Man Called Ove, Their Finest, My Life as a Courgette, Frantz, After the Storm, Alone in Berlin, etc. Look for our new programme online later in August -- www.haylefilmclub.org.uk - but meantime feel free to contact us with suggestions!

Incredibly, we've been running for five years now, so expect a celebration event later this year. Advance thanks to our members and audience for their steady and growing support over this time -- and to all our committee members, past and present.

Council Corner

New Councillors

Since the last edition three new councillors have joined the council, representing South Ward. We welcome Councillors Harry Blakeley, Peter Channon and Andrew Roden, who successfully gained their seats by co-option. Their contact details are listed on the council's website page.

Hayle Open Air Swimming Pool

The pool opened on Saturday 24

June. Once again, the Friends of Hayle Pool gave their time to assist prior to opening for the season, thank you. The council also installed new windows and doors to changing rooms and a new entrance arrangement has been introduced. Each year a little more work is undertaken helping to steadily improve the loved facility. This year we are feeling the benefit of the solar, thermal covers that were installed at the end of the season 2016. The water is averaging a temperature of 24 degrees so there are no excuses not to come in and enjoy!

The pool is open daily from 11am till 6pm. The last day of this season is Sunday 10 September.

CCTV

The Council recently placed the order for 2 additional CCTV cameras to extend the coverage provided by the existing network. It is anticipated that SSE will be installing these imminently. They will cover the Recreation Ground and the far end of Copperhouse and the Penpol Terrace, harbour and Jubilee Bridge areas.

Hayle Civic Service and Parade

This year's event will take place on 8 October 2017 and as usual the Parade will meet and form in the Commercial Road Car Park from 2.30pm. Guests are invited to park in the car park and the Parade will process, led by Hayle Town Band, to St Elwyn's Church for the Civic Service, which starts at 3pm. Following the Service the Parade will return to the Day Care Centre for refreshments.

Farewell to Mrs Margaret Tanner

The mayor, on behalf of the town council, presented Mrs Tanner with a prestigious town plate and a bouquet of flowers at a recent town council meeting. The council wanted to thank her for her considerable contribution to the town and steadfast support for local initiatives and groups. We wish you all the best Margaret, you will be sorely missed.

Comment on the Neighbourhood Plan

– But Be Quick!

Hayle's Neighbourhood Plan is about to go through its final approval stages and we need your comments to make sure we have everything right. If you have missed the notices around town and in the newspaper and are not on the email list, there is still time – but not much.

The official closing date is the 4th of August and you can comment by going to our website at np.hayle.net or visit the library or the Town Clerk's Office.

If you miss the deadline, send your comments in anyway, we may be able to make some last minute changes.

The Good Life

Hayle has recently been treated to a rare sight on Penpol Terrace opposite the harbour. As the photo shows, a beautiful horse named Queenie and a caravan with owner Darren Munn, made camp on the green grass among the flower beds.

His arrival provided a lot of interest among the many people drawn to this unusual sight, some buying fruit and veg from across the road at the Farm Shop and feeding to Queenie, which delighted the small children holding their ice creams out of reach. Darren must have been quite exhausted from fielding the constant stream of questions about his life style. Quite the tourist attraction (perhaps he should be hired here as such).

makes his way back to Cirencester to prepare for the following year, having made enough to keep going for a while.

This however is his last trip as Queenie is getting on a bit and he has problems with his hands. Because of this he is hoping to set up doing Green Woodcraft somewhere in Wales. First he has to persuade the authorities there that this will be a viable and productive lifestyle and hopes for public support in reaching this goal.

We wish him the very best of luck.

Hayle Swimming Pool

Hayle Outdoor Swimming Pool is open again and is looking better than ever this year thanks to the volunteers who have worked so hard to prepare it.

The new entrance is located in the Swimming Pool car park, the pool is open daily from 11am until 6pm, is attended by a great team of Lifeguards, and prices have not been increased for the sixth consecutive year by Hayle Town Council.

Tuesdays are free to residents of TR27 postcode if you obtain a pass from the Town Council Office (proof of residence and small photo required) so please come along and use it.

The pool is much warmer than it used to be, thanks to the solar thermal covers that were installed last year with the grant money obtained from the M & S Community Energy Fund - so there is no longer the excuse that it is too cold!

Nick Farrar Mayor of Hayle, said:

"The mayor's walk is again supporting St Julia's Hospice. This wonderful facility we have has served Cornwall with incredible compassion and dignity over the years. Having had close family and friends receive care at the hospice, I have enormous respect for the staff and the facilities offered. This year has even greater significance to me and my family, as my Mum was recently a patient at St Julia's, the care and support we all received over the few weeks Mum was there helped us all cope at what was a very difficult time. St Julia's is not just a place to die, many receive care packages that help prolong and improve the quality of life for patients.

It is my pleasure to have the opportunity to raise awareness of St Julia's Hospice and hope that the town can join me to raise at the very end of this road and behind The White Hart Hotel. Hayle Tennis club has now gone fully online which means there is a booking system so that members and visitors can easily book a court online from a computer or mobile phone. The system also enables people to join and existing members to update their membership. www.clubspark.lta.org.uk/ HayleTennisClub

New members are welcome. We are a small friendly club with very competitive fees.

If you are on holiday in the area you can also play at our club for an appropriate charge provided you have the correct footwear.

So what are you waiting for?

Now you know where we are, come and join us.

RNLI Hayle Branch

The Hayle Branch of the RNLI held its Annual General Meeting on 14th June at the Lifeguard Support Centre in Hayle.

Despite being a small group, we once again had a very successful year of fundraising, raising £13,105 for the RNLI at various venues and events in and around Hayle over the past year.

As always, the money will be used by the RNLI to save lives at sea and to safeguard members of the public on our beautiful beaches.

We meet on the second Wednesday evening of the month, from February until November, at the RNLI Lifeguard Support Centre in the industrial park behind M&S.

New members are always welcome and we would love you to come along to see what we do and maybe bring any ideas you may have to help raise funds for this very worthwhile cause!

Hayle Fest

3rd to 6th August

Hayle Fest builds on what was Hayle Harbour Day which was a great success, and this promises to be even bigger and better. For three nights and four days there will be fantastic music, craft beers, watersports and children's activities. Every day and evening there are bands and groups to cover all tastes from Ska, James Harvey, The 80s to The Celtic Fiddlers and the Sea Kings, and then a fantastic firework display on the Saturday.

There will be a variety of food stalls and vans as well as craft stalls. Charities benefiting are Hayle Royal British legion, Help for Heroes, Royal Navy Royal Marines, The Cinnamon Trust, The Fisherman's Mission and RNLI.

Check the web site to see what is happening when.

Under the umbrella of Hayle Fest on the Sunday is Hayle Celebration Day which will be with the weather to go with it. The Midsummer heatwave even exceeded the tropical temperatures of 1976 but the heavy rain which followed it produced October-like gales which burnt the foliage on many trees and we lost one of our willows on the east bank of the leat, which was brought down by the strong wind.

Not all the wildlife appreciated the strong sun. The turtles do not bask in such high temperatures but keep to the shade during the heat of the day, appearing early in the morning and the evening when the temperature is cooler. When they are swimming around you may have been lucky enough to spot our new baby. Dinky, as he has been christened by the children, is a cheeky little fellow and is progressing well. Our big fish, however, were very busy hunting down fly larva which were hatching out in the heat, like manic submarines enjoying the feast.

Hector, our heron, is now visiting regularly and the kingfishers are also back. They nest along the river bank near the reservoir. Our smaller birds seem to have survived will return at the end of August together with the small feral flock of mallards which visit us every year.

Now that the late spring colour has faded, the summer flowers are taking over. Arum lilies, meadowsweet, the various vetches, marsh marigolds and wild geraniums can all be found around the Millpond site and the dahlias are blooming in the gardens, encouraging our bees and butterflies.

Speckled Woods, Hedge Browns and Small Tortoiseshells can be seen in the hedgerows and the dragonflies are around the ponds and river bank.

We are still waiting for the play equipment to be put back. Let us hope that it will be back soon because the gardens are the safest play area for younger children in Hayle.

WELCOME TO HAYLE LIBRARY/OSS

The Summer Reading Challenge kicked off on 15 July so children who haven't already joined, do pop into the library and sign up for the challenge. The idea is to read at least 6 books over 3 separate visits collecting rewards along the way and then receive a medal and certificate on completion.

We are having a children's Animal Event on Monday 21 August from 2-4pm. Hendra Farm is coming with various animals and birds for the children to meet.

There are only 20 tickets for sale at £1.50 each so be quick before they all go.

We would really like to help any housebound people out there that love reading but can't access the library themselves so please, if you know anyone that's housebound we have a great team of volunteers who choose and deliver books to people once a month and it's free! Either ring

NEWS FROM HAYLE STRUMALONGERS

Well, here we are on the summer break until the third Wednesday in September.

It's been a good year for everybody involved with the guitar nights, we have a lot of offshoots that are entertaining and having fun with their guitars.

Dave Ledbury formed a band and they are entertaining the senior citizens in Hayle and the surrounding district once a month and they are very good, I caught up with them at the Victoria Inn in Four Lanes and they had everybody singing.

Steve Polglase started a trio and they are making a good name for themselves in the area .

Rick Rescorla

The word Hero is bandied about with abandon, but a real hero was Rick Rescorla and here Mervyn Sullivan remembers that heroism on that fateful day in September 16 yrs ago.

Bad timing!....I stepped out of my front gate late one afternoon on Penpol Terrace and met Jeff Turk who, like me, was heading to the super market on the quay to buy a bottle of milk. On the way, opposite us on the green, stands the granite memorial to Hayle born Rick Rescorla, who died in the collapse of the World Trade Centre in New York in 2001. Having been my life-long friend and being interviewed many times on TV and radio to talk about Rick, Jeff suggested that I might like to give a little more insight into Rick's story for the Pump.....Yes, of course, I said, when would you like me to send it in by? "Tomorrow" he replied."Tomorrow" ?!! I exclaimed. "Yes, it's the deadline for the next edition" he calmly explained.

Thanks Jeff !

Having recovered from the shock, I began thinking. Yes, most of us locals know the amazing story of Rick's efforts in New York on that fateful day, when nearly 3000 innocent people died and over 6000 were injured in the collapse of both of the giant towers of the Twin Towers complex.

As it has been reported many times both here and in the USA, Rick was officially responsible for organising the evacuation of 2700 employees of Morgan Stanley, the largest financial institution in the world. The company occupied twenty two floors of the South Tower. Among his other important senior financial positions with the company, Rick was also head of security of which he was always concerned, and is on video talking about the imminent danger of an attack from the air due to the height of the buildings. Because of this fear, twice a year Rick made the whole staff, every single person, no matter what their position in the company, do a practice evacuation exercise. They had, under his instruction, to use the stair wells, not the lifts, in twos, holding hands, so that if one fell they would be helped up and not impede the others following behind. (see The Man who predicted 9/11 on the internet. An amazing prediction of what he said would happen)

On the day of the attack, Susan, Rick's wife of just three years, phoned me from New Jersey to ask if I was watching the attack on TV. I said I was and she said that Rick was in the building and that he had just phoned her to say that he was trying to help people escape and that if anything was to happen to him that "he loved her and that she had made is life" She never heard from him again.

As the first aircraft hit the North Tower, the workers in the South Tower were told stay put, as it was not their building that was in danger. But Rick, with his vast experience in the American army, leading his men under extreme fire in one of the biggest battles in Vietnam, knew that the South Tower could also be in danger of collapsing.

Rick ordered them out and every one of Morgan Stanley's workers escaped alive and uninjured. Rick was then seen going back into the building after the second aircraft hit his building to organise other evacuations. But time ran out for him and the tower collapsed. Like many others, Rick's body was never found.

If it had not been for his foresight, the number killed would have been nearly double.

Rick is hailed a National hero in America where he has been awarded many high ranking medals he is a household name. Many books and articles have been written about him, including the distinguished New Yorker magazine, which, other than about a president, wrote one of the longest articles they had ever printed, about him, with his name on the front cover.

Another book in which Rick is mentioned in times was made into a film starring Mel Gibson. The Californian Opera Company wrote an opera about Rick's life and it was performed throughout the States.

At the massive Army Training camp, 45 miles long by 15 miles wide, with its own three lane motorway into the camp from Atlanta City airport, at Fort Benning in Georgia, where Rick was trained and commissioned and where he returned, after the Vietnam war, as an instructor, they have erected a nine foot bronze statue of him. It is larger than life, as Rick was himself. The only soldier they have ever erected a statue to.

Susan invited my wife Jan and me over to America to attend the unveiling ceremony with her. We were asked to say some words about him at the unveiling and while we did so we held aloft a large St Pirans flag and, with raised fists, acclaimed him in the Cornish language. This caused a loud cheer from the audience and we were bombarded with questions as to what this was all about.

and we explained what it means to be Cornish.....

Part of Dignity plc. A British Company.

GERTIE needs YOU to join her on stage and be part of all the 'Fun & Frolics' of performing a specially written panto. Not only will you be part a great team having loads of fun, and lots of laughs, but you will also be supporting a local charity and people with disabilities. Never performed on stage? Have you always wanted to 'tread the boards'?

Well, this is your golden chance and you will be performing with others who have never performed on stage before either. You given all the support you need in developing your acting skills.

PANTO is a brand new recently formed theatre group and all the profits made from all the various shows will be donated to charity. PANTO will also be performing Radio plays alongside Pantomimes 'with a difference'. The group has great plans for the future so why not join us now, at the beginning, and be part of a great new adventure.
