LESLEY HANDS OVER

Lesley Channell has been the warm-hearted and welcoming manager of Hayle Day Care Centre for twenty years. The centre has been running since 1982 and continues to grow and has become an integral part of the Hayle community.

Over the years Lesley has welcomed more than a thousand new faces into the centre and has grown as fond of them as of family members.

Tamsin Erikson has been working in tandem with Lesley since January and has already slotted in perfectly and is enjoying the experience of working with the wonderful clients and volunteers.

Lesley says “I am going to miss the Centre enormously, but I am looking forward to retirement and the opportunity to travel to Europe with my husband. I have enjoyed such support and love from everybody, and it has been the greatest privilege being the manager of Hayle Day Care Centre.”

Rotary Club Award

On Friday 9th March 2018 Hayle Rotary Club held their Presidents night at the West Cornwall Golf Club .In attendance were 50 people, Rotarians and their Friends.

On the night the Rotary Club made a very special presentation to an individual who has for the last 20 years given commitment and service to the elderly of Hayle and St Ives by running the Hayle Day Care Centre. She retires at the end of March. The highest Rotary award that any Club can make is a Paul Harris Fellowship and it was agreed by the Club that Mrs Lesley Channell should receive this and at Hayle Presidents Night we formally presented her with this award in recognition of the sterling work she has done to make so many lives more enjoyable and safe.

Speaker for the night was Mr John Bennett who as Chairman of the Hayle Neighbourhood Plan gave us a brief insight into the production of the plan and its current position in respect of its progress to a referendum in the Town. It is at this moment lodged with the Government Inspector who should be reporting back very soon.

This will be the first SUBWAY being offered to Hayle and will provide local job opportunities. Loyal customers will see benefits with a full refit on the shop side.

Store manager Christopher Baguley says "Here at Spar we are striving to always better ourselves and bring the best to you, our customers".

Council Vacancy

We still have a councillor vacancy for Hayle North. More information is on the council's website. If you would like to get involved and take an active role in shaping the future of Hayle please contact the clerk, details below, to have an informal chat to find out what is involved.

Changes to the electoral boundaries for Cornwall Councillors will be in place from 2021.

The Local Government Boundary Commission has been undertaking a review of the divisional boundaries for Cornwall Council and has decided that there should be 87 Cornwall Councillors from 2021. Nothing will change until then, but discussions by Cornwall Council and town and parish councils about how they would like to see the boundaries change have taken place over the last six months. Cornwall Council has decided to recommend that there should be two councillors to represent Hayle and Gwinear-Gwithian.

Hayle Town Council has put forward a suggestion that there should be two divisions, one based on the existing Hayle South linked with Gwinear and the other the existing Hayle

Dogs Welcome

North linked with Gwithian. This matches the two wards (now called divisions) of Hayle Town Council with the two wards of Gwinear-Gwithian Parish Council. Hayle Town Council has suggested that the demarcation should follow the railway line and the A30 to clearly define the divisions. Unfortunately, this was not accepted by Cornwall Council, who instead proposed that the division should be through Ventonleague, splitting Hayle in a most illogical and unsatisfactory way but not affecting any part of Gwinear-Gwithian.

The Boundary Commission will now look at both proposals and come back for consultation on its preferred option which could be entirely different; it is expected that this will be in June 2018. The town council will have a few weeks to respond and may well seek public support for what it believes is the better option for everyone.

Neighbourhood Plan

The Inspector's final report on the Neighbourhood Plan has just been received and no substantive changes have been made. There will be a referendum in the next month or two to decide whether or not the plan is adopted. Please look out for leaflets and information that will be coming through your letterbox confirming the arrangements. Hayle Town Council encourages you to vote!

Diary Dates

The Annual Electors Meeting will be taking place on the evening of Thursday 19 April 2018. This is when the mayor presents the annual report which summarizes the council's activities during the previous 12 months. This is not a formal council meeting and local residents are encouraged to attend and have the opportunity to put questions to councillors.

The Mayor Choosing and Annual Council Meeting will take place on the evening of Thursday 10 May 2018 at Hayle Day Care Centre. During the course of this meeting awards will be presented to the Citizens and Organisations of the Year.

Annual Citizens and Organisations of the Year

Nomination packs are now available from the town council office and on the website for the Citizens and Organisation of the Year Awards. The council is also seeking nominations for Hayle Young Person of the Year and Hayle Youth Organisation of the Year. The deadline for all nominations is Wednesday 18 April 2018.

Hayle in Bloom

Following the success of last year's South West in Bloom awards, Hayle has now been entered into the Champion of Champions competition. To showcase Hayle at its best and to be successful at this elite level greater input is needed from existing and new Hayle in Bloom volunteers. The council is pleased to continue its support and encourages all residents to get involved by taking pride in their

Neighbourhood Plan Goes To Referendum

Our Plan has been approved by the Independent Inspector to go to a referendum of all registered voters in Hayle.

The Steering Group is delighted that the Inspector required only a couple of minor amendments during the inspection process. The Final Plan is posted on our website: <http://np.hayle.net> together with other documents. It is now up to Cornwall Council to set a date for the referendum. Keep an eye on the local press and noticeboards or sign up to our email list at: <http://np.hayle.net/contact/>. Once the referendum date has been announced, we will set dates for Open Days where you can come to learn more about the Neighbourhood Plan and its policies. Because of government regulations, neither the town council nor the Steering Group will be allowed to lobby you to vote in favour. We can, however, encourage you to vote – and a strong turnout will send a message to the Cornwall Council planners that Hayle is engaged in how their town develops. Here is a reminder of why Hayle Town Council wanted a Neighbourhood Plan:

- To promote good design and protect the distinct character of the area
- To ensure the right development happens in the right places
- To improve traffic facilities and reduce congestion
- To support local businesses and jobs
- To protect our unique heritage
- To protect green and open spaces
- To get funding for local projects from developer contributions. [Developers must pay a Community Infrastructure Levy and the percentage of this that towns receive to use on local projects is 25% if there is an adopted Neighbourhood Plan or 15%, capped at £100, without.]

Hayle Heritage Centre re-opening at Easter

After a busy winter working on our collection here at Hayle Heritage Centre we are re-opening to the public on the 3rd of April; to celebrate we are running free activities over the Easter holiday.

Come along on the 3rd of April from 11- 4. There are family craft sessions based around the Easter theme, you can follow the Easter trail around the centre and win a prize, make a sock bunny or Easter basket and decorate Easter Egg pictures.

In the afternoon at 2.00 Trevor Smitherham is giving a fascinating talk and artefacts handling session. On the 10th of April from 11-4 we will be running another activity day this time using Hayle Regatta as inspiration. There will be handling objects on display, you can make a self-propelled paddle boat and race it along the water, make and decorate boats and create your own winner's trophy to take home.

Again, starting at 2.00 we will have a free talk with unseen artefacts and photos given by Trevor.

We have changed our opening times and this year the centre will be open Tuesday to Friday 11-4 with Saturday opening from June to September.

We do need more volunteers, if you have a love of history and your town

HAYLE FILM CLUB
www.haylefilmclub.org.uk

On

Saturday, 14th April, Hayle Film Club will present a good old-fashioned weepie, FILM STARS DON'T DIE IN LIVERPOOL, with a bit of an ageist twist. Based on a true story, Annette Bening, in a career-best performance, stars as 1950s actress Gloria Grahame, who falls in love with Liverpoolian actor Peter Turner, 30 years her junior, played by the always wonderful Jamie Bell (who debuted as Billy Elliot way back in 2000).

Later in the month, on Thursday 26th April, we will screen MY

PURE LAND, surely one of our most unusual and exciting films -- a modern-day feminist Western, in which three Pakistani women defend their land from 200 heavily armed men who seek to claim it as part of a family feud. (In Urdu, with English subtitles.)

Visit our website after the 1st of May for information on our summer programme.

All screenings take place upstairs at the Passmore Edwards Institute and begin promptly at 7.30pm. Tickets are £5 per person (£4 for members; membership is just £7.50 per year). Book by phone (01736 600736) or online at www.haylefilmclub.org.uk. Free refreshments follow Saturday screenings.

Tickets on the door subject to availability. All are welcome.

On the other Fridays we have a Storytime session from 3.45 for an hour for children aged 3-9. Jane reads stories and does arts and crafts with the children so come along, it's great fun.

We have a good selection of books, DVDs and talking books for you to borrow. It's free to join, just bring a proof of address with you.

We also have great online resources available to our customers like Borrowbox where you can borrow e-books and e-audio books. Millpond Update

Ever since the Meteorological Office decided to move the first day of spring to St. David's Day we have not been quite sure what to expect and 2018 has no exception. Traditionally March comes in like a lion and goes out like a lamb, but this year it came in like a wolf “from Russia with love!” Blizzards swept across the South West. The last time I saw ice on the Swan Pool was in 2010 and the ducks which are still with us where looking decidedly puzzled by all this “White Stuff!” Fortunately it didn’t last long and now we are back to the normal sunshine and showers but the turtle’s basking log has been dislodged. I hope some kind person will put it back for them because they have grown to love it and basking helps to keep them healthy.

At long last the Children’s Play Equipment is going back with a brand new play mat to keep the area clean. I hope that the council will return the blue duck and the seesaw for the smaller toddlers. This has always been a safe play area for the under tens in particular. We don’t want to see the younger children bullied to keep them off the new site as happens at the Recreation Ground which would be a great shame because they have had to wait over a year for their new play area.

Most of our ducks have now moved up to Copperhouse to breed. The Gadwall have paid us their spring visit on their way to Iceland, the merlin has also wished us goodbye for another winter and most of the black-headed gulls will be back home in Wales. It is always sad to see them go, but we do have our thrushes, finches, blackcaps and blue tits and they will soon start nesting. We do have a few spring flowers along the

On St. Valentine's Day we celebrated 'Green Heart Day'. This is a Climate Coalition day to mark the impact of the changing climate. We wore hand-made green hearts to show our love of nature and to encourage action from local decision makers to reduce pollution. We see the effects of climate change here in Cornwall – floods, landslides, erosion, unseasonable weather, and maybe the recent and rare snowfall, which brought the county to a halt for several days,

Next year we will run several workshops for anyone who is interested in Climate Change.

During the snowy days, I had more birds in my garden than I have ever had before, hungrily taking the seed and scraps from the bird tables. Soon there will be more opportunity to spend time in our gardens and we encourage you to Give Nature a Home, with wild corners, log piles, bird feeders and baths, and ponds. You will find plenty of online advice if you wish to follow up on this. Our website has a wealth of information.

I admit I did not venture far from home in the snow, so did not see the birds on Copperhouse Pool and how they were coping, but there are still plenty of them in residence as I write this. It's always worth looking out for Rope Walk. Some of the primroses, lesser-celandines and bluebells managed to survive the blitz but the usual spring colour has gone. All we can do is hope for the future of this iconic place.

Can we remind visitors to the Millponds of the Anti-Plastic Campaign? Please put it in the bins provided and thank you to all those who are already doing so.

the more unusual among the flocks, like avocet and pintail.

Recently, dogs were seen chasing birds off Copperhouse Pool, which can cause the birds to use precious energy, threatening their survival.

It is a criminal offence to scare the birds on the nature reserve.

Our wonderful team of litter pickers recently removed seven bags of rubbish from Copperhouse. The next litter pick will be run by Surfers Against Sewage and will be at Carnsew Pool in April. See our website for details.

Letter to the Editor

Once again many thanks for my copy of the Hayle Pump.

Firstly I expect I am one of the oldest visitors to your town, coming as a baby in 1931 to stay with my grandparents at 32 Penpol Terrace, they being Thos. & Eliz Drew.

Then with my parents, Dad being Thomas Jnr. visited throughout the 30s and 40s (war years) until called up for National Service, returning again mid 50s.

The Pump brings such happy memories. I have enjoyed reading articles regarding Rick Rescorla. I remember in my school-days my grandparents' neighbours were a Mr & Mrs Rescorla (next door) who I believe had returned from the USA (?) with a daughter, a Mrs Grievers. I visited Mr Rescorla, at that time bed-ridden.

I also loved to sit on the bench opposite the house and remember Italian P.O.W.s being marched down the terrace after working on local farms.

Also mentioned was the beached French crabber, my grandfather told me it either carried people fleeing from occupied France or was brought in by the Navy in suspicious circumstances??

After my National Service, visiting with a friend we bathed in the clear water surrounding the ship and swung on the rope from the yard-arm. As a child I also enjoyed being rowed from the weir to Lelant by Jack Couch. My father, who knew him, would call to him and he would come across, if he felt like it..!!

He also knew and spoke with Hughie Love the pilot and John Drew, postman and all year swimmer, maybe a relative.

During the early 50s I stayed in Tremeadow Terrace with my Aunt Rachel Cawse, neé Drew, husband Bobby worked at Clarks Bakery in Foundry Square all his life apart from war service.

My grandfather, a G.W.R. horse porter worked for many years on the quayside with his two shire horses.

My uncle Reg Drew, a G.W.R./B.R. has also been mentioned in the Pump. It is now 20 years since I was able to visit but will never forget my time in Hayle all those years ago.

I would appreciate it if any readers know of any relatives I may have.

Also any information regarding the resting place of Thos & Eliz Drew who were buried in Phillack churchyard, but on my last visit I could not find a grave.

V.B. Drew

Note from Editor: If you can help Mr Drew with his quest, please write to him and use any of our drop-off points on P.2. or email me at editor@haylepump.org.uk and I will make sure it reaches him held at the Cornish Arms and attended by an enthusiastic group. It was very successful and our thanks go to all those who donated auction items and, of course, to those of you who put your hands in your pockets and bought items on the evening. A special thanks, also, to staff at the Cornish Arms.

In the last edition of the Pump, 'Windy Corner' was mentioned, near Atlantic Garage, but I have been reliably informed that this spot is actually known as 'Kevern's Corner' after well known local butcher, Arthur Kevern !

In connection with our project at this site, if anyone has any old unused/unwanted metal watering cans we would be delighted to take them off your hands. Please bring them to The Greenhouse on King George V Walk

Reporting from Bodriggy Academy
Bug Mansion, Gardens and Woodland Walk, volunteer Sandie
Morgan writes:

A walk through the gardens at the beginning of March, after all the bad weather, must have lifted everyone's spirits as the gardens came to life and daffodils, crocus and snowdrops all appeared, heralding the Spring. I have been asked many times where the Big Bugs have gone and are they coming back ? The good news is that they have been taken to Bodriggy for repair and will be returning soon along with some new friends!
Unfortunately, due to bad weather and high winds, the Bug Mansion itself collapsed but thanks to Shirley Thompson, it has been rebuilt and looks fantastic. The resident robin seems to like it as well. I feel that the beautiful flowers, foliage and wonderful wild life makes this part of Hayle a really special place and hope you agree. Our monthly meetings are held on the last Monday of the month in Passmore Edwards Institute at 7.00pm All are welcome.

Hayle Guitar Club

We have the dates for the themed nights arranged for the next month or two and they are as follows: on the 4th of April we have an open mike and jam session, if you want to come on down and have a good experience playing your songs, this is the night.

The following week, the 11th, we have the electric session, so bring your 'Strats and Gibsons' down and have a go. On the 25th of April we have a short workshop on the Pentatonic scale and various patterns that can be used. We had a similar night in March that went down well so we are going over it again. To finish off the month we have an electric guitar- rock, blues and solo session on the 30th of May. Everybody is welcome, bring down your choice of music and have a blast.

From the news front, on the 7th Feb the Red River Rock band, one of the many offshoots from the guitar club entertained, at the Queen's Hotel, the Another spin-off from the club is the band called ' Not Yet ' comprising Dave Cupples, Dave Ledbury and Jonothan Powel. They entertain and do charity events. On the 20th of Feb they arranged a concert in aid of Cancer Research in commemoration of Looe Nichols who was well known in the music circles around Penzance. Also joining the entertainment was the local trio 'Carneja' consisting of Alison Powel, Jonothan and Phil. £100 was raised on the night. Some of the highlights of the night were their renditions of -- 'Black is Black' 'Don't be Cruel' 'Hey Baby' 'Rhinestone Cowboy' 'Hello Mary Lou '.

HOW MANY HOT CROSS BUNS?

Hot cross buns are eaten on Good Friday to remind us of Jesus dying on the cross - the most solemn day of the year for Christians. You can have one for Jesus' cross; but two thieves were crucified with him - so you could have up to three buns. The spices in the buns remind us of the spices used in Jesus' burial.

Kim Potter Art

Old Foundry Chapel Hayle.

Kim's artistic career started when she left school at 15 and joined world famous ceramics company Royal Doulton as an apprentice 'Paintress'. A Paintress was someone who hand painted figurines, 'flatware' such as plates and character or 'Toby' jugs. After serving her apprenticeship, Kim worked at many well-known studios such as Aynsley China and Wedgwood.

Throughout Kim's life she has been drawn to nature, to the sea and more specifically to the beautiful coastline of Cornwall, she says, as a young girl, when asked what she wanted to be when she grew up her answer was invariably 'a mermaid'!

Kim's art is inspired by the ethereal influences of the coastal landscape and the constant brooding presence of the Atlantic Ocean.

A lot of the art you see in Cornwall is very 'blue and yellow' reflecting the fabulous sunshine and wonderful golden beaches, however for those fortunate to live here all year, each season brings its own bounty.

The breath-taking storms, the brooding sky, the fury of the ocean and the translucent green of the waves which the amazing light brings us even in winter are equally inspiring.

Visit her studio to see the artist at work and view a wide variety of works including oil and acrylic paintings as well as pieces created with beachcombed driftwood, sea glass and pebbles.

Working towards a Dementia
Friendly Community

Penwith Dementia Action Alliance has been in existence since 2014. It works to help our area become dementia-friendly. What exactly does that mean? A dementia-friendly community is composed of everyone in the community – shops, public services, faith communities, organisations, businesses, emergency services, transport and community leaders as well as individuals – committing themselves to work together to help people with dementia remain a part of their community and not become apart from it. This involves learning a few things about dementia and doing very simple and practical things that can make an enormous difference. Our members are drawn from across the area, from business, the health professions, Rotary Clubs, local councils, research and the voluntary sector. We are a small team and always welcome new members who can work with us to make life better for those living with dementia. Please contact the Secretary on 01736 788107, or secretary@penwithdementia.org. We have a Facebook page – “Penwith Dementia Action Alliance” - and website:

S.O.S. Save our Sand Beach Clean

Plastic waste on our beaches seems to be in the news lately but anyone who spends time on the beach will know it's been a problem for years. Big tides and onshore winds can bury or churn up stuff that's gradually breaking down until it's too small to pick up, and eventually, too small to see. But it's still there, being ingested by marine life, and, at the top of the food chain, us!

Among the usual haul of plastic bottles and packaging, glass, 'disposable' barbecues, and the year-round scourge of discarded offcuts of polypropylene line from the fishing industry, we had some unusual finds in 2017.

An invasion of Portuguese Man-Of-War jellyfish littered the tideline, but we also found an oven door, a heavy duty boat battery, an Irish racing pigeon and a fine selection of swimwear and undies. The strangest was a cremation urn, complete with the remains of a lady from the West Midlands who presumably wanted to spend the rest of eternity on our lovely beach.

If you feel like joining us for an hour or two this summer it would be great to see you at any of our events, or you could be one of the unsung heroes who take a bag with them every time they go to the beach and just pick up what they can.

Rick Rescorla

The personal story by Mervyn Sullivan

Rick's return visits home to Cornwall...

On his home visits Rick never failed to meet up with his old friend John Couch (no longer with us) a well-known character in the Foundry area who lived in the bottom house in Penpol Road. He could always be seen tending his vegetable garden and used this as an excuse to talk to nearly everybody passing by, locals and visitors alike. On meeting up one day on a visit home, Rick picked John up, tucked him under his arm, and ran fifty yards down to Hampson's pasty shop, put him down, put his hand in his pocket and produced an American silver dollar which John had asked for a year before. "Is this what you asked for?" John was amazed... Rick, with his extremely busy life in the States, had remembered his old friend back home in Cornwall. It was to become

John's prize possession.

On another occasion Rick was returning home at teatime to his mother's house opposite the Mill Pond, and noticed several people looking into the Pond. To his amazement he saw that someone had thrown the Foundry Hill school lollipop crossing pole out into the water. Without a second thought he jumped fully clothed into the pond, waded out, retrieved the pole and put it back into his mother's garden where the crossing lady kept it, "Amy will be needing that in the morning to make sure the children can cross safely" Amy was the wife of another of Rick's old friends, Geoffrey Williams who used to live in Mellanear Road.

Rick was an avid speed reader and had what is called a "photographic memory." History, local churches, films, classical music, world wars, politics, Shakespeare, famous artists, Greek philosophy. in fact nearly every subject was of interest to him, and he could discuss any subject at any level with anyone. An amazing knowledge.

Rick would take his wife Susan all around Cornwall, showing her places of interest and visiting local churches. They renewed their wedding vows in the grounds of Lelant Church, the burial ground of his grandfather.

We would visit art galleries and potteries and Rick would want to talk about their works with the artists, discussing techniques and materials.

One morning, after a hefy breakfast in a local café, we started out to give my dog a walk over to the beach. On the way he called into Philps pasty shop..."Just grabbing a mid-morning snack"...On reaching the beach we stood on the cliff overlooking the bay. It was a clear, still morning with no sound. "You don't know how lucky you are...to stand here free and safe, with a view like that." Then he said "Don't say a word...." We stood in silence for a couple of minutes, then Rick raised his fist as though challenging the world and recited, word for word, the entire battle scene speech from the film Henry V. "Once more dear friends, once more...etc". Even my dog was bemused. The next morning, on the dog walk, Rick came charging down a small sand dune on the Electric Works beach, acting the part of Lawrence of Arabia...on the third day my poor little dog was a bit reluctant to go for a walk.

Rick's favourite place to go was Trencrom Hill. To him this was a very special sacred place where he said he felt at home with his Celtic forefathers. He would sit alone on the giant granite boulders and contemplate as though amongst his ancestors. He had always said that when he died he wanted his ashes scattered on Trencrom Hill.

Having being lost in the South Tower collapse no remains were ever found. Therefore no ashes to fulfil his lifelong wish. So on a later visit made over here to Cornwall, Susan, my wife Jan and myself climbed Trencrom on a very windy day, went Anyone wanting to help out can attend at the pool on any Saturday in April or May between 11:30 am and 15:00 pm.

Just bring your old clothes and whatever tools you need. There are some painting jobs and quite a bit of cleaning to do this year, but on the whole it is not looking as big a task as we usually undertake.

Anyone wishing to join the Friends of Hayle Swimming Pool can call into Cafe Riviere at the pool and ask for a membership form. We look forward to seeing you.
