A Caribbean Flamingo chick has been confirmed as female and staff at Paradise Park decided to keep the name Derek.

Keeper Becky Waite explains "DNA analysis of the egg shell has confirmed that Derek is in fact female. The initial nickname Derek has become so popular with staff and visitors that we have decided to keep it !

Originally back in August Derek's parents had stopped incubating about a week too early. So keepers decided to put the egg in an incubator not knowing if it would hatch, but within days the egg started chirping - Derek hatched successfully on 19th August! Keeper Becky Waite hand-reared Derek until she was 22 days when she was able to stay at the Park full time and caring for her started to be shared

Cornwall Council's Community Governance Review

Following the Boundary Review that occurred last year, Cornwall Council is now part way through a consultation looking at all parish and town boundaries and warding arrangements throughout the county. Hayle Town Council made an initial submission to Cornwall Council, as part of the first phase of the consultation.

Hayle Town Council agreed that it was neither appropriate nor relevant to consider the potential impact of moving houses in or out of its parish in terms of Council Tax, it based its proposals purely on which community the residents of the properties would most identify with.

Hayle Town Council's proposals have a minimal impact on the neighbouring parish of Gwinear-Gwithian. This council's proposals impact on 2 houses at Mutton Hill (moving to Gwinear-Gwithian from Hayle), 2 houses at Trungle Mill, Angarrack (moving to Hayle from Gwinear-Gwithian) and the 4 holiday lodges at Nanpusker (moving to Hayle from Gwinear-Gwithian, in line with the main dwelling, The Old Pump House). We also considered that the proposed internal ward boundaries be amended to ensure equal representation, ideally with 8 and 7 councillors representing the respective wards as opposed to proposed 10 and 5 councillors.

Hayle Town Council understands that Gwinear-Gwithian Parish Council has submitted proposals for dwellings situated at Pulsack, Angarrack Hill and Carwin on Loggan's Moor which form a vital part of the Hayle parish to be realigned into its parish. Hayle Town Council vehemently opposes this suggestion on the grounds of this entire area's significant historic importance to the town and parish of Hayle.

We encourage you to have a look at and to get involved with the consultation process, full details can be found at: www.cornwall.gov.uk/council-and-democracy/elections/community-governance-reviews/

Hayle Growth Area Masterplan Consultation

Hayle Town Council and Cornwall Council would like to see higher quality development coming forward in Hayle. To help achieve this a masterplan is being prepared which offers the opportunity for the Town Council, Hayle residents and Cornwall Council to take a proactive approach to how it believes development in this area should come forward.

We are aware that a number of you were able to attend the exhibition which took place on 13 and 14 September at the Passmore Edwards Institute. If you missed this the Hayle Growth Area Masterplan is still available to view and comment on until 14 October 2019, when the six week consultation period comes to an end. The aim of the consultation is for local residents to be able to influence how Hayle grows in the future. You can view the proposals at the library, at the town council offices and/or on line: <https://www.cornwall.gov.uk/environment-and-planning/planning/planning-policy/adopted-plans/planning-policy-guidance/hayle-growth-area-masterplan-consultation/>
We want to hear your views!
Update on the former Hawkins Motors Site – Hayle Terrace
Despite several promises and assurances from the owners and developers of the site the land has not yet been formally transferred to the Town Council as originally agreed. It is both disappointing and frustrating that the developers have not upheld their side of the agreement and cleared the site to an acceptable condition in readiness for transfer. The Town Council will continue to apply pressure on the developers and will also ask Cornwall Council to enforce the conditions of the S106 agreement which was put in place when the planning permission for the development of the houses was originally passed. The developers of the site are also obliged to give the town council the sum of £30,000 for the purpose of enhancing the immediate area.

This time last year we asked you to submit your ideas for what you would like to see at that spot. We felt we needed to explain why no progress had been made regarding the project. We still have all of the suggestions received on file and when we are in a position to move forward all ideas will be given due consideration.

Hayle Open Air Swimming Pool

The pool closed on 9 September, after another successful 2019 season. The weather was not altogether on our side and the regular strong winds caused a few issues, particularly when the solar covers took flight!

Consequently, the covers couldn't be left on quite as regularly as in the last few years and the water did not reach or maintain the high temperatures that we had all got used to. The Tuesday evenings adult only lane swimming proved to be popular once more and Tuesdays continued to be the busier days due to the continuation of the free Tuesday passes for TR27 residents. Thanks to the lifeguarding team for your efforts this year and for keeping it running smoothly.

Hayle Civic Service and Parade

This year's event will take place on Sunday 6 October and as usual the Parade will meet and form in the Commercial Road Car Park from 2.30pm. Guests are invited to park in the car park and the Parade will process to St Elwyn's Church for the Civic Service, which starts at 3pm. Following the Service the Parade will

Little Harbour, said: “Cook Eat Give is a really easy way for people to get involved in fundraising for Children’s Hospice South West. Everyone loves a foodie get together – whether it’s a barbeque, pizza night or themed dinner party, the choice is yours and you can enjoy your food in the knowledge that you are helping us to support local children and families.”

“We hope people will join us this October but if that date isn’t suitable, people can host a Cook Eat Give anytime. Every meal, however large or small, will make a big difference.” Mealtimes are a big part of life at the charity’s three children’s hospices. During their short stays at the hospice, all families eat lunch and dinner together around a large dining table alongside hospice staff. If you can’t host a dinner party, please give your preloved items to CHSW’s Donate It Day on 11th October from 10.30am to 2.30pm at Hayle Day Care Centre.

All good quality goods are welcome, TOYS, CLOTHES, BOOKS, HOUSEHOLD etc.

These goods supply the retail outlets and in turn fund CHSW LITTLE HARBOUR the much needed Children’s Hospice in Cornwall interest and pleasure for those who take the opportunity to visit. When the pool is full, and the wind light, there are perfect reflections of the town in upside down mode. There are occasional boating days, and cheerful crowds encouraging the boatsmen and women. The colourful gardens of King George Walk are another attraction, and squirrels racing through the trees.

Copperhouse Pool and its surroundings can provide endless

To add to the interest, there are the birds. Gulls in their hundreds rest when the tide is out. The Canada geese, more numerous than ever this year, come and go between their feeding grounds, making quite a sight - and sound! Ring billed gulls have been spotted recently, and little flocks of swallows lining up on the wires, perhaps preparing for their long flights south. Godwits, curlews, oystercatchers, swans and ducks, and more, are all there just waiting for you to notice them. Aren't we lucky to have this showplace on our doorstep?

Further afield, at St Ives, a brown booby has been seen, never before recorded in this country, and probably blown over from Mexico or thereabouts. The bird has attracted bird watchers from far and wide. Monthly litterpicks continue on the Copperhouse Pool beaches, on the second Sunday of each month. If you would like to help, phone the RSPB office on 01736 360624. Until next time, Tina Morgan

Millpond Update

Autumn has now crept up upon us, meteorologically speaking, although the true equinox is not truly with us until September 21st. With so many variations in our weather this year it has been difficult to work out when one season has ended and another begins. It also now seems to depend in which area you actually live. We perhaps have been luckier than those regions which had very heavy rain or very little rain at all during the late spring and summer months. We had an unseasonal gale or two, but for the most part our climate was survivable for now. We know that our climate is beginning to change and that we humans need to think about what harm we do to our environment and do all we can to protect and improve it not only for future generations but also for the wildlife that we share with it.

The autumn flowers are blooming around the ponds. Pink Campion, Teasel, Knapweed, Agrimony and various thistles and Hawkweeds are providing seasonal colour and we seem to have an exceptional crop of pond cress this year. Our visiting Gadwall will enjoy that in the late September on their way to Tresco for the winter.

I have been told that we have a baby turtle. I haven't spotted it yet but I will keep looking but the rest of the gang are still looking forward to their basking log. Someone must be able to give them a real treat please!

Hayle in Bloom (HIB)

As mentioned in the last Pump, South West in Bloom judging took place in early July, accompanied by judges' positive and encouraging feedback. It is for this reason that Chair, Richard Barber, is hopeful that H.I.B. will again achieve a positive result at the Awards Ceremony, this year, to be held in Newquay on the 11th October.

Again, praise goes to all members of the local community, as well as members of H.I.B. who have helped in so many ways to make Hayle look so good this summer. All activities, whether it be looking after your own gardens, using litter bins, repairs, looking after wildlife, weeding and many more are all valuable contributions. So, well done and keep it up!

A big 'thank you' to all our sponsors, at this point, including the Town Council, but especially to Paradise Park and Mr. D. Andrewartha, who have recently made significant financial contributions to our group. The results of this summer's Hayle in Bloom competitions are as follows:

Residential Garden.

1. Mrs Lynn Reffold.
2. Mr Gregg.

Best Dressed Pub.

1. The Cornish Arms

Presentations were made at the last monthly meeting on 30th Sept.

We hope we receive even more entries next year.

The next monthly meeting is 28th October at 7.00pm. In Passmore Edwards Institute

Hayle Twinning Association

Despite the early start on Friday morning, we were welcomed by the familiar smile of Norman behind the wheel of the Hopley's coach. A pleasant uneventful journey and smooth crossing and we were with our hosts for the annual visit to Pordic that evening.

Anticipation of a good weekend mounted as we waited in the morning sunshine for the official unveiling of the gift from Hayle – a beautifully painted replica by Mervyn Sullivan of his plaque commemorating Hayle's contribution to the Industrial Revolution as displayed opposite Penpol Terrace.

Two musicians with traditional Breton instruments led a procession of Celtic dancers that included Claudine, the president of the Pordic Twinning Association. The mayoral office was well represented at the reception and impressive accolades were made to Hayle before an exhibition dance and a reception buffet.

Later most of the group was taken by their hosts to spend the afternoon visiting the sculptor, Kito, where we were given a guided tour of his workshop and studio before strolling amongst his surreal creations set the grounds alongside a beautiful stretch of coast.

Our first day concluded with the official celebratory dinner at a local casino where the lavish meal was followed by live entertainment. Sunday was the "family day", when we were taken by our hosts to the numerous popular landmarks in and around the area, before the majority gathered at one of the hosts' homes for a party and light hearted team games, including a game of cricket. On Monday as we gathered for the group outing we heard that Walter & Gill Keeble and their French hosts, Claudine and Michel had been involved in a traffic accident the previous afternoon. The emergency service personnel at the scene were excellent, as was the health check at the local hospital. Apart from the driver, Michel, who had been hospitalised with relatively minor injuries, they had fortunately escaped serious harm. We made our way south to Dinan, where another two of the Pordic hosts led guided tours around the upper part of the town before we took the street down through picturesque medieval houses to a picnic on the banks of the river Rance that flows north to Dinard and St Malo. As we were finishing lunch a Breton piper emerged from the bushes playing Scotland the Brave which prompted an ex-pat Scotsman to burst into a totally uninhibited Highland Fling before leading us to the embarkation quay for a boat ride up the river Rance and into a canal dating from Napoleonic times. All too soon it was Tuesday morning and we were thanking our hosts before our departure and journey home. Our heads buzzing with thoughts of another wonderful Twinning weekend for which we are so grateful not only to our hosts but also to all those in the Hayle team who helped make the trip possible,

AUTUMN PROGRAMME

Join us for a fun night on Saturday 12th October with the comic drama LATE NIGHT, starring the always-brilliant Emma Thompson as a legendary (and much feared) US talk-show host whose falling ratings force her to hire a young ethnic woman (writer-comedian Mindy Kaling) to join her older, all-male

(and very white) writing team.

Later in the month, on Thursday 24th October, we'll present FOXTROT, an unflinching (and controversial) award-winning Israeli drama about a family facing difficult truths, in a film that is equally fierce nightmare, black farce and emotional knockout. (In Hebrew, with English subtitles.)

And then it's a 180-degree turn --

Hayle Memory Café Celebrations

After a brilliant year, the Hayle Memory Café will be celebrating its first-year anniversary on 18th

November with a Rock and Roll party. The Café opened in 2018 to enhance the well being and quality of life of those who have memory problems, diagnosed or undiagnosed, together with those who are carers. Thanks to our wonderful team of volunteers the café has proved to be a great success.

It is not a Day Care Centre but an afternoon of social activity and support for those cared for and their carers. You do not have to be referred by any medical professional to attend. The café offers opportunities through activities, such as music, singing, dance, entertainment, quizzes, seated exercise, creative paper therapies and the all-important social time together over a cuppa and cake! Each session operates on 1st and 3rd Mondays of each month (except bank holidays), 2-4pm at Hayle Rugby Club, Memorial Park, Marsh Lane, Hayle, TR27 4PS and is fun, friendly and free.

We look forward to welcoming you. For more information contact Christine on 07513 221066.

Dear Sir

Once again it was with pleasure to receive my copy of the Pump. I have enjoyed reading it since my neighbour brought me a copy back, when he visited Hayle some 3 years previously. I was first brought to Hayle in 1931 to stay with my father's parents at 32 Penpol Terrace and continued to holiday there throughout the 30's and 40's until I was 'called up' in the late 40's. Again visited in 50's and 60's then staying with my aunt Rachel in Tremeadow Tce., although it is now some 20yrs since spending just a few hours in Hayle, I am now approaching my 90th year. I was most interested in the letter and picture from Mervyn Sullivan regarding the blue plaque fitted to the gate post of Rick Rescorla's birth place. It brought back such happy memories for me, staying at No. 32. When a schoolboy I remember the next door neighbours were a Mr & Mrs Rescorla and a daughter, a Mrs Grieves (not certain of spelling). I visited Mr Rescorla when down from Wales, he was bed-ridden at that time. I wonder if anyone, possibly Mervyn, could tell me what relationship they were to Rick. In those days either side of the gate post was Bobby Trevithick's grocery shop and a Mrs Roberts' haberdashery shop, anyone remember? Anyone with any 'info' for me, please hand it in to any Pump drop-off places, and they will forward it to me with my next Pump. Thank you,

Dear Pump and the Residents of Hayle

For how long do we have to put up with ignorant and inconsiderate drivers of cars, vans and lorries parking on our pavements?

One particular repeat offender of note, is the Alliance Van that parks on the pavement outside Copperhouse Chemist. Recently, on two separate occasions I have seen a parent pushing a baby in a stroller and with an accompanying toddler, have to walk out into the busy road because they could not get through the gap left on the pavement. On one of these occasions a passing vehicle driver blasted his/her horn in warning to the parent. The little toddler was so scared you could hear her bawling all the way down the street, Bless her.

Come on drivers, show some consideration for pedestrians, in particular parents with children, our older residents and the disabled who find it difficult to manoeuvre around these illegally parked vehicles while also having to negotiate shops' signs and waste bins.

Thank you.

Kind regards Nick Allum

Remembering Cunaide – Part 2

Part 2, and last issue's Part 1, written by Stephen Murley. There was some artistic license used in part 1 by the author, but articles are based heavily on newspaper articles from c1844 and information at Hayle Heritage Centre.

Part 1 Recap

In the 5th Century AD, a 6ft long granite gravestone was erected, with inscriptions chiselled upon it, naming 'Cunaide' as the individual whose cremated ashes rested in a stone chamber beneath. This gravestone was erected on the embankments of a former iron-age fort in the Carnsew area of Hayle, where it eventually was lost in the midst of time before it was discovered about a foot or so beneath the ground by Henry Harvey's workmen (from Hayle's famous Harvey & Co) in 1843 when they set about creating the Plantation which still exists in present day Hayle on the opposite side of Jewsons.

Part 2

Undoubtedly the Cunaide gravestone stood on the grounds of the former iron-age fort at Carnsew for many years after it was erected, but by the time of its rediscovery in late 1843 it seems it was most likely sadly forgotten about. On Friday 5th January 1844, some 1,400 years after it was first placed in position, Henry Harvey (of Harvey & Co), and his workmen found it buried and in the way of his plans to turn the former iron-age-fort into the plantation that most people enjoy walking amongst today. Fascinated by the discovery, Henry Harvey instructed his workmen to remove the stone and place it but a few feet away from where it was found, within the wall of the path he was creating. There, to the left of the gravestone, he also erected a slate with the stone's inscription and translation, as it was interpreted at the time.

The stone's significance was back in the minds of the local area thanks to its rediscovery and although the stone's engraving became increasingly harder to read by the naked eye over the years, many have studied it, including famous archaeologist and Cornish studies pioneer, Professor Charles Thomas CBE FSA. His research was recently backed up by analysis of the stone in 2018 by Archaeologist Tom Goskar

FSA who used the latest 3D scanning technology to extensively analyse the surface of the stone to identify the original inscriptions, which are now less than 0.1mm in depth. His findings (see photo) revealed that Professor Charles Thomas was accurate with his interpretation of the inscription and that translation of the Latin most likely reads:

"HERE IN PEACE
LATELY WENT TO REST CUNAIDE -
HERE IN THE GRAVE S/HE LIES -
S/HE LIVED FOR THIRTY-THREE YEARS."

Results of Archaeologist Tom
Gosker's 3D analysis of the Cunaide
stone's inscription.
Copyright: Hayle
Heritage Centre

Originally Grade 2 listed by English Heritage in early 1988, by the time the 21st century came about, the Cunaide stone was classified as 'at-risk' by English Heritage. Visitors and locals alike could easily find themselves mistakenly believing that the slate translation slab was the original 5th century gravestone. The Cunaide stone, right next to the translation slate, had become so naturally weathered and obscured by lichen that it blended in so well with the surrounding path wall, making it easy to barely notice its existence; Its inscriptions were then nigh impossible to read with the naked eye.

Thankfully, Scheduled Monument Consent was granted late 2017 and a grant obtained from the Heritage Lottery Fund, which secured the stone's future. Together with Hayle Heritage Centre, Specialist Stone Conservators 'Kelland Conservation', and under the supervision of Historic England, on Thursday 15th December 2017 the Cunaide Stone was carefully removed from the plantation wall over the course of the day. The weather on that day will also be remembered very well, for there were numerous torrential downpours, which undoubtedly hampered the team performing their task but didn't dampen their spirits and determination. The stone's four substantial pieces were gently removed and hoisted into a trailer and transported to the Heritage Centre. There they were kept initially in a stable environment over winter before further remedial conservation work gave the stone a very careful and sympathetic clean. A blog post, with photos of the stone being moved, can be found here <https://www.hayleheritagecentre.org.uk/cunaide-undercover/>

By the time Hayle Heritage Centre reopened in April 2019, after the winter break, the Cunaide stone had been secured in a standing position on display as part of the centre's new pre-history #hayleunearthed exhibition.

At Hayle Heritage Centre (open April -September) you can read about the studies performed on the stone and the answers they provide, but most importantly, everyone can once again see the cleaned stone, now preserved for years to come, and pay their respects to Cunaide.

Funding Success for Harvey's Foundry

Trust and Hayle Archive

Harvey's Foundry Trust is delighted to announce receipt of a grant from the National Archives to investigate the collections held in Hayle Archive. The Archive, based in the old Ellis Breweries building on Sea Lane, is a longstanding community asset. It contains thousands of items from photographs and historic newspapers to industrial, social and ecclesiastical records, objects and other ephemera. This grassroots collection gives a unique insight into the history of Hayle and wider West Cornwall. With help from an 'Archives Revealed' scoping grant Hayle Archive will be able to fully survey its collection, gain insight into cataloguing and conservation needs and improve public access (both at its HQ in Hayle and online). The Archive, in partnership with its sister organisation, Hayle Heritage Centre will doubtless be a rich resource for new exhibitions when the Centre reopens over Easter 2020. Watch this space! Meanwhile, Hayle Archive is open to the public from 10am-1pm every Tuesday and Thursday to assist with research enquiries (01736 753962).
