Tribute to Richard Cyril (Rick) Rescorla

On Saturday 11th September, we gathered to remember and honour Rick Rescorla, who on this day twenty years ago paid the ultimate sacrifice in this terrible disaster when terrorists flew aircraft into the twin towers in New York.

Rick Rescorla, known to his family and friends locally as (Tammy) was born just opposite where his memorial is on Penpol Terrace, on May 27th, 1939. He went to Penpol school, then on to Penzance Grammar School with Mervyn and others on the train. And with the Americans in Hayle preparing for D-day landings, this was a great fascination for Rick and all his friends. He excelled at sports, especially rugby. When he was 17 and a half, he decided to join the army. He was posted to Cyprus then to Northern Rhodesia in the police force where he met Dan Hill, and so it was later in 1963 Rick moved to America, reporting to Fort Dix, New Jersey for basic training, then on to Fort Benning, Georgia in 1964 for officer training. So, in April 1965 Rick and Dan were assigned to the second battalion of the seventh cavalry regiment, first cavalry division, and in August were posted to Vietnam. Because of how Rick trained with his men they became known as hard corp, and that was their radio call signal. During all these battles with the enemy, Rick made sure all Americans were accounted for and taken back to base, no American would be left behind. One of Rick's biggest battles was at Ia-Drang. Rick's tour of duty in Vietnam ended in 1966. Rick was awarded the silver star for heroism at Ia-Drang, the purple heart for injuries at An Khe, two bronze stars and the Vietnamese cross of gallantry with gold star.

Rick studied hard and in 1997 the prestigious firm of Morgan Stanley Dean Winter Inc made Rick an executive vice president, and he became responsible for the security of the firm's 3700 employees in the south tower. Rick introduced strict new security measures, fire and evacuation drills were implemented every other month. Rick had two children, Trevor and Kim. He and Susan got married on February 20th 1999. Rick cherished his Cornish heritage: in May that year they came over to visit Rick's mum and friends, and in May 2000 they came back to Cornwall to renew their wedding vows at St Uny, Lelant church. In Feb 2001 Rick came back to visit his sick mother, then Mervyn took him down to the station at 5:30am, Rick peering through the open window shook Mervyn's hand and shouted (kernow bys vykken) Cornwall for ever.

On Tuesday 11th Sept, 9/11, at 8:46am a plane crashed into the north tower, then a second plane into the south tower and because of what Rick had installed in all the employees of evacuation drills, over 2700 people were saved from the south tower. Rick was last seen on the 10th floor with his bullhorn singing Cornish songs to make sure everyone got out safely and making sure no employees were left behind. Morgan Stanley lost just six employees. Of course, Rick was awarded many posthumous awards from many places around the world. In November 2019 his widow Susan went to The White House to receive the presidential citizens medal from President

HAYLE FRIENDS CHSW LITTLE HARBOUR have held their first event since lock down with a Cream Tea and raised £172 to help the wonderful work that has continued at Little Harbour even through the difficult times we have all had. Thank you to all who supported this event. Thanks also to The Badger Inn Lelant for their support and great donation of £2250

This year CHILDREN'S HOSPICE SOUTH WEST are celebrating their 30th Anniversary. Children's Hospice South West, Little Harbour is the Cornish Hospice at Porthpean and many local families need the help offered to families who have a child with a life limiting illness. The sick child, their siblings and parents all receive a time of care, love and support during respite, stays, emergency visits and end of life care. The staff at the hospices are exceptional and trained to care for so many illnesses some of which are so rare they have not yet been given a name. If you would like to help Hayle Friends please contact

Keith Parker's poetry to help raise funds.

Following the success of Reflections, his first anthology of poems, Keith Parker has produced a second book called Sunsets. Illustrated by Banbury artist Gail Parsons, the new book continues to follow the theme of poetry written during bereavement after Keith's wife Sue died at St Julia's Hospice in Hayle in November 2019.

"I keep Sue's love and memory alive through poetry and illustration" says Keith. "I'm not a natural poet by any stretch of the imagination, but I hope readers may find comfort and inspiration through difficult times." He and Sue met in December 2000 and it was the beginning of a very close relationship, but bereavement came just before Covid-19 struck and Keith was left to face his darkest moments alone as lock down was enforced. "Writing the books of poetry has helped as I've reflected on our memories and the special moments we shared.

Bereavement isn't easy and is unique to everyone, but I hope readers can find words that will help them."

For his first book Reflections, Keith turned to Orkney artist Britt Marcus. For Sunsets he's worked with Gail Parsons, a former neighbour in Banbury Oxford. "I always kept in touch with Gail, Christmas cards and the like, and when I told her I was writing a second book she happened to say she'd just taken up painting. I sent her pictures of places and items I wanted to feature and I was delighted with the illustrations she sent back."

Keith started work on the 35-page book with its 16 poems and 15 illustrations on the 8th of January this year and published it on the 12th of April. "People have emailed me to say how much my poetry has helped them and it's these comments that make it all so worthwhile. Sales have been good and I feel the two books complement each other."

Sales of Sunsets will benefit Cornwall Hospice Care, Cancer Research UK, The Cove at Treliske and Katherine House Hospice in Adderbury. The book is on sale for £4.99 and can be purchased along with Reflections,

Town Council By-Elections

Cornwall Council has now confirmed that, as sufficient time has passed and enough interest has been demonstrated (in the form of a petition), by-elections can shortly take place to fill the current vacancies in the council wards, following the last elections in May 2021. The tentative date is 21 October, but you will receive Poll Cards through the post which will confirm the date. If you are passionate about your local community, we need you to put your name into the hat and stand for election! Councillors make a huge difference to the quality of life of local people and how local issues are dealt with. We need people from all backgrounds and experiences who reflect the communities they serve to put themselves forward. Local councils can only be as effective, relevant and vibrant as the people elected to run it.

As long as you are eighteen or over and live or work in Hayle you are eligible to become a town councillor, which is a voluntary role. You don't need any specific qualifications. Skills gained through work, raising a family, caring for relatives, volunteering or being active in the community or faith groups are highly valuable!

The role of Towns and Parish Councils is growing. As a result of devolution, they have more powers and can consider preserving and taking on more services from Cornwall Council. As an elected member you would be involved in making important decisions which directly benefit

Relocation Project

A two-day presentation was held by members of the council at the Library in August, inviting comments and suggestions from the local community on the plan to relocate the town council offices from the Community Centre to an improved, combined facility at the Library. This was very well received, and councillors were pleased to have the opportunity be able to discuss this exciting project face to face with their electorate. Details of the proposals are still available to view on the town council's website. We are looking forward to fleshing out the proposals and move towards delivering the scheme in the coming months. Watch this space.

Hayle Open Air Swimming Pool

The pool closed on 11 September, after a tricky season in terms of managing staffing levels and Covid 19. We have been pleased with the overall positive response to the new booking system and timed sessions which were implemented last year to mitigate risk from Covid-19. Despite some staff shortages due to self-isolating requirements, this has turned out to be one of our most successful seasons yet. We hope you all enjoyed it too.

Remembrance Sunday

The town council has agreed to take on the management of the Remembrance Sunday Parade and the service at the war memorial, with Hayle Royal British Legion's support. Nearer the time full details confirming arrangements will be publicised on the local social media pages as well as on our website.

Bodriggy Health Centre – Notice regarding Flu Vaccinations for registered patients

Our flu vaccination is underway and we are holding flu vaccination clinics at Bodriggy Health Centre during September and October. Please wear loose clothing so that we can access your arm easily. We have a limited number of car parking spaces so it would be really helpful if you could walk or cycle, if you are able, or share a lift with a friend, neighbour or relative.

Patients eligible for the flu vaccination will receive a text message, an email or a letter and will be invited to attend one of our clinics and no appointment is necessary, just turn up at one of our clinics. Our telephone lines are busy during this time but you can contact us by email on enquiries.bodriggy@nhs.net and one of our patient advisers will assist you.

You may also be offered a vaccination against pneumococcal disease which can cause severe pneumonia or a new vaccine to reduce the chance of getting shingles and neuralgia.

If you decide not to have the vaccination please let us know so we can enter this on your medical

exhibition
at Hayle
Heritage Centre

In November Hayle Heritage Centre is holding a new exhibition that explores the fascinating 230-year history of 24 Foundry Square, also known as John Harvey House. This iconic Hayle building has had several incarnations: a world class foundry, Slade's the engineers, Excalibur's the meadery and now the home of Hayle Heritage Centre. We are undertaking a major expansion of the centre and this exhibition is a vital first step in enabling Hayle residents to discover its history. The exhibition will also present an opportunity for you, the people of Hayle, to tell us what you would like to see and do in the centre, moving forward.

The exhibition is being held at John Harvey House in Foundry Square and opens the first week of November.

We will release more details of its opening times via our website and social media pages. Alternatively, please give us a call on 01736 757683.

HAYLE IN BLOOM. SEPTEMBER. 2021

It was rewarding to note that this year all the planters (tubs, towers and troughs) throughout the town were prepared and planted out in good time for Easter flowering and beyond, through the summer. Commendable efforts were made by all the volunteers, as well as Olivia and her team, to ensure that this happened, and the extra early colour was commented on by residents and visitors alike! Well done all of you

This impressive display was noted by the R.H.S. Judge when he visited HAYLE on 19th July and he was particularly impressed by the contribution made by the community as a whole in restoring the displays on the Jubilee Bridge (in ONE week) after the vandalism / thefts in June.

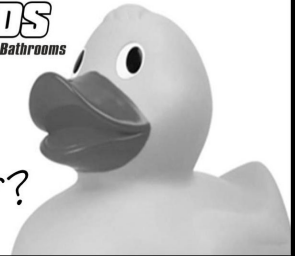

We are a Pre-loved Boutique selling an extensive range of quality label clothing, shoes and accessories. Buying and selling on commission is easy and we are on hand to book in your clothes, bags and accessories. Make money on your once cherished garments, it's so easy.

This year the R.H.S. South West in Bloom presentations will be made in Weston Super Mare on the 7th October and we are looking forward to some very positive results on that occasion. A number of us will be making the trip to witness the event.

On the subject of results, the HIB. summer competitions, quite frankly, were as popular as a damp squib! The Royal Standard did, however, make an entry and put on a really colourful floral display for their clientele throughout the summer. They, therefore, retain the trophy for 'best dressed pub' As far as I am aware there were no entries in 'Best Residential Garden' and therefore, no judging took place.

Given the responses of Hayle residents to getting involved in these competitions, we will need to evaluate whether to continue with them or not.

If readers have any feedback about this, then, please make contact.

At this point, Hayle in Bloom would like to formally acknowledge the wonderful Royal British Legion commemorative flower gardens at the front of the Passmore Edwards Institute. A work well done.

of the original eighteen, in fact, They moved in family groups into the area by the platform and the reeds by the Island so there is no need to worry about their survival. Our main concern was an incident that almost happened to our cygnets. It appears that a group of youths tried to steal a cygnet and were reported to the Police. The cygnets were unharmed but because swans are regarded as the Queen's birds it is a crime to harm them and carries a fine of £1,000. Since then a watch has been kept on our Swan family and they continue to be happy and healthy/ Over 70 of our drakes are now on The Inner Pond. They move

Cornwall Assist

Local residents Claire and Rob Jefferies know first-hand the barriers in enabling friends and loved ones to continue enjoying their lives, when life becomes less simple. It is due to these experiences Cornwall Assist was born - wanting to make a difference to people within their local community.

Their aim is simple; to help and support individuals and families to maintain independence whilst promoting wellbeing.

The services that Claire and Rob offer are far and wide reaching and are available to all; The young, the young at heart and those living with disabilities and mobility challenges.

The business sits between the Care sector and support from family, friends and neighbours. The advantage being that Cornwall Assist can be there when the professional services can't be because the job is not within their remit or loved ones can't always be there because they live up country or they have their own commitments.

Having gained work via social prescribers and already getting regular clients, the first couple of months have seen a very positive uptake. Rob and Claire, amongst other jobs, have been taking clients to hospital appointments, training them on how to use a iPad / tablet which helps with both confidence and independence,

FRIENDS OF THE TOWANS NOW AN OFFICIAL CHARITY

I'm thrilled to report that, by the time you read this, we will have become a proper, fully-fledged charity, having had our inaugural AGM on 13th

September . This is the culmination of a lot of hard work by many committed volunteers, who've already clocked up over 6,000 hours of work on the Towans since early 2015. It feels like we've built up a real head of steam now, and the time is right to expand our operation to bring in more people to share the wonderful dunes we have on our doorstep.

In particular, I have a passion that the dunes become used regularly by all the local schools for a wide range of outdoor learning, as well as becoming a place to engage with nature, relax and to appreciate our surroundings. So, if you are involved with a school please do get in touch with me to see how we can work together martinr@talktalk.net

The objectives of Friends of the Towans are to:

- Protect, manage and enhance the Towans and adjacent land between Hayle and Godrevy through direct action or in co-operation with other individuals, landowners groups or organisations;
- Raise the profile of the Towans and its protection and conservation needs within the local and wider community;
- Assist in the monitoring and recording of flora, fauna and heritage within the area;
- Deepen understanding, through education and training, of the Towans – its plants, wildlife and history;

- Propose, conduct and support research into all aspects of the Towans;
 - Oppose activities harmful to the natural environment or heritage of the Towans;
- Maintain and support a group of volunteers to assist in meeting these objectives.

As we enter the autumn, this is when we start to carry out our most visible work as we continue to reduce the amount of gorse, blackthorn etc that threatens to engulf the flower-rich grassy areas. We meet on most Tuesdays and Thursdays, so if you'd like to help, please do get in touch. We provide tools, gloves and good company and work in a very relaxed manner. Just bring some enthusiasm, stout boots and suitable outdoor clothing. To see our programme, look at www.friendsofthetowans.org.uk for more details.

You MUST contact Martin Rule if you would like to join via 07854 123 877 or martinrule@talktalk.net.

Best wishes from the Towans Ranger, Martin Rule

Phillack Tower

Phillack ringers were greatly saddened to lose two of their team in the last year. Sandra Fleet died unexpectedly on July 24, 2020, and Peter James Quick died, aged 75, on April 27 2021, after a long illness.

Due to Covid, there were delays in marking Peter's death, but recently, several of Peter's friends joined Phillack ringers to ring two half muffled peals in his memory. Keith Pester, John Troan, Peter Pascoe, and Paul Row had known Peter for many years, indeed, Paul went to school with him, and they all rang bells with him.

Peter's widow and several other friends attended the gathering on August 25th. One of his friends, Paul, wrote the following tribute to Peter.

Peter was a distinguished campanologist, having learned to ring the bells at Ludgvan Parish Church from the mid-1950s. He rang Ludgvan bells for over 65 years, indeed was Captain of the Tower for at least 35 years. He was a regular ringer at Phillack and St Erth Churches. He rang bells at many towers in Cornwall and beyond, including in Australia and New Zealand.

In his memory, the bell ringers of Phillack and St Erth, joined by several of his past ringing companions, rang a half-muffled peal at Phillack on August 25 2021, which would have been Peter's 76th birthday. Several of Peter's family and friends attended.

Rest In Peace, dear Peter. In other Phillack news, we are delighted to have a new ringer in our team. Lesley has impressed with her quick uptake of ringing! And another ringer, who has been ill for almost two years, has returned to the Tower. Welcome! We are back ringing regularly for the Sunday Church service, and at

There are families in West Cornwall who use the Hospice and receive care from the exceptional staff. The illnesses the children have are many and varied, the parents and siblings spend many hours caring for them. Little Harbour offers a respite care to all the family and each member benefits from that break in a way best suited to them.

CHSW is celebrating its 30th Anniversary this year, Eddie and Jill Farwell knew what it was like to have 2 very sick children and had to travel to Oxford to get respite care for themselves. They worked to achieve the first Children's Hospice being opened in Barnstaple and since a second Advent Sunday, we will have a special celebratory service.

Lunchtime concerts

Last year due to Covid we were unable to have any concerts but this year they have resumed. We have received a donation of a grand piano and have had some excellent recitals. The programme is varied and has included two sopranos, the Red River singers and various string ensembles. Sung Mass and Choral Evensong

As well as concerts, we now have a small choir to help lead our worship twice a month. On the first Sunday of the month we have a Sung Mass at 9.30am and on the third Sunday we have Choral Evensong at 4pm. You can find information about all our services on the notice board, church door and A Church Near You website as well as the Godrevy Team Ministry page on Facebook.

the death of friends or family members and have been unable to attend funerals. We plan to hold a special memorial service on Tuesday 2 November at 6pm when there will be an opportunity to remember those we have lost. Also if you would like to join us to celebrate the completion of the restoration of the Friendship window then this will take place on Advent Sunday, 28 November at 4pm.

St. Elwyn's church is the largest in the area, which is why it has been the venue for Remembrance Day services, Civic services and any other services or events requiring a building able to accommodate large numbers. NOVELBREAKTHROUGH FOR CORNISH WRITING DUO

Two Cornwall-based writers who were newspaper colleagues 40 years ago are celebrating the launch of their first novel produced together.

Lottery Loveboat is an expanded adaptation of a book originally written and self-published as a limited edition for charity four years ago by Mike Truscott.

Francesca Hanikova, who worked with Mike on the Falmouth Packet at the start of her journalistic career, has acted as agent and editor in securing mainstream publisher, Whisper Publishing, for Lottery Loveboat.

The story, written under the pen name Mel Penrose, tells of shy middle-aged Harold Pettigrew whose life-changing lottery win sees him on a cruise with six women with various motives for being there.

Mike and Francesca have already written a second novel, a Cornwall-based intrigue, with more in the pipeline. While the books are stand-alone titles, all are set in the fictional town of Porthcoombe, which is loosely based on Falmouth.

“Although our careers went off in different directions, we kept in touch and finally met up again in 2016,” explained Mike. “Francesca persuaded me to dust off the original story with a view to publication and the Mel Penrose collaboration was born.”

Francesca added: “Working together again has been good fun and we’ve not had any major issues in writing as a duo. We bring different skills to the keyboard that have made the partnership a winner and helped us secure a publisher in the highly-competitive fiction market.”

Following his newspaper career, Cornish-born Mike ran his own PR company for 25 years before retiring and taking up writing local history books then fiction. Married with two adult daughters, he lives in Falmouth and, as well as writing, enjoys painting, walking, swimming and blogging. He is a life-long football fan and, until retirement, was PR Officer for Truro City, Cornwall’s premier football club.

As summer winds down, it is time to search out your bird feeders, and get them ready for hungry birds. Ensure they're positioned safely, out of the reach of cats. We all love Kitty, but they are expert hunters!

A lady rang me recently, concerned that she had seen a person 'catching a swan'. I followed up on this, and all was well, but catching swans is not a good idea. They can break a human leg with their strong wings, and the stress can harm the bird. Like all wildlife, swans should be left in peace to do their own thing and if a swan appears injured or distressed, a wildlife rescue organisation should be contacted. If you see a swan with its leg sticking out of its folded wings, fear not. It might look injured but this behaviour can help aid temperature regulation – amazing!

Migration is now in full swing with wintering birds returning or stopping off on passage. A variety of waders have been recorded in August and September including Black-tailed Godwit, Bar-tailed Godwit, Knot, Greenshank, Common Sandpiper, Curlew Sandpiper, Wood Sandpiper and Sanderling. Numbers of Dunlin and Ringed Plover have been impressive, with a count of around 250 of the former and 150 of the later on 7th September.

Up to 10 Little Stint have been recorded daily since early September. These tiny waders are typically a scarce migrant in Britain, stopping off on their way to winter in Africa. September is the best month to spot one as juveniles leave breeding grounds for the first time. Influxes can occur when weather conditions are suitable for pushing southbound migrants further west than usual and good numbers suggest a good breeding season in the Arctic. 2021 looks to be an influx year with plentiful records around the country.

Other notable sightings include a Glossy Ibis on 25th August and an Osprey on 29th August.

TEXT MESSAGE SCAMS

There are a lot of scams going around every day, with new ones appearing weekly. Keeping on top of what the latest scam is can be difficult or near impossible. There's good advice online at which.co.uk/consumer-rights/news/scam-and-fraud and ourwatch.org.uk/protectfromfraud but not everyone is online so The Hayle Pump Editor thought it prudent to share some information on one type of scam doing the rounds, that of scams by SMS/TEXT Message on your mobile phone.

Some of the latest scam text messages relate to voice mail messages or parcel deliveries.

Examples might look like:

You have received a new voicemail: WEBSITE

DHL: Your parcel is arriving, track here: WEBSITE

Hi, we have missed your delivery today. Please visit WEBSITE to book a redelivery and pay the surcharge of 1.45 (GBP).

HERMES: Sorry, we tried to deliver your parcel today! We will keep it safe for now at our depot, visit WEBSITE to book your redelivery.

But scam text messages come in all shapes and sizes from scammers pretending to be your bank, the NHS, or the Government.

How do you recognise a scam text? Message from an unknown number – If you don't recognise the number, that's one sign but even then, numbers can easily be hidden by scammers to make it look like the text message is coming from any organisation such as 'HSBC' or 'NHS'. Don't trust the number or name. If you are unsure, contact the organisation through a number you know to be correct.

Payment request or details – No Genuine organisation is going to ask you for your personal details or bank details via a text message.

Fake website address – Does the website match the organisation name? Even if it does, that does not mean it will take you to the correct website.

Spelling errors – If there are spelling or grammatical errors, that is a strong warning that it's not legitimate.

What to do if you think you have received a scam text?

Don't follow any links – Never click on any website link in a text message! Links can take you to cloned websites designed to steal your money or personal data.

Don't share personal information – If any text message asks for personal information, be very suspicious.

If you are not sure if a text is real, contact the company that claims to have sent it to check. Use the official Contact details listed on the company's website or documents you might have been sent.

Don't reply to a fake text, or call the number, or click on suspicious links; this only lets the scammers know your number is being used.

Report the fake text by forwarding it to 7726 - a free reporting service provided by phone operators. This information is then shared with the police and intelligence agencies working to stop text scams.

If you've fallen victim to a text scam you can report it to Action Fraud any time of the day or night using the online fraud reporting tool at <https://reporting.actionfraud.police.uk> or by
